The insert shows a closeup of the "wand" which hooks into the center hole of a recording, creating an extension to the thumb and allowing the disc to be touched only on the rim by the fingertips.

Local man invents 'wand' to keep recordings clean

A simple and easy-to-use device, which should prove a blessing to audiophiles, stereo buffs and others interested in preserving 33.3 rpm phonograph recordings, is now available.

Thanks to the ingenuity of a Granite City man, anyone using the new invention no longer has to worry about damaging smudges and fingerprints on LP record albums—blemishes that interfere with the reproduction of sound on stereo equipment.

Harold Mayfield has done the trick with a "recordcare wand," a device he has patented and is marketing through his newly established firm—Recordcare Co., 2840 Fortune Drive, Granite City.

"By using a wand, records can be handled without touching the sound grooves," the inventor explained.

And, it works to perfection. Mayfield quickly demonstrated the wand's purpose by slipping a recording from its protective jacket and adjusting the turntable and related equipment with his other hand, without once resorting to the usual, insecure balancing act required to guard the record's surface.

The wand, about 3 1/2 inches long, is made of very strong polycarbonate. The material, manufactured by General Electric, is lightweight, flexible and virtually impossible to break under normal usage.

The hook end inserts into the center hole of a LP disc, with the fingers resting on the outer rim of the record.

With just the slightest pressure, the device remains securely hooked and the record can be held comfortably and placed on stereo equipment without ever touching the disc's surface.

Mayfield got the idea for the recordcare wand when he went looking for a particular song on a 33.3 rpm album and could find the number only on a 45 rpm, a size he seldom uses.

"When I took that 45 out of its cover, using my thumb through the center hole, I thought why can't I find something to extend the thumb so I can pick up my LP records in the same way," Mayfield said.

Within 30 minutes from that flash of thought he had made a working model from wire, which evolved into his current invention, he relates. Mayfield made his first model, compiled the necessary specifications and filed for a patent with the U.S. Patent Office on April 21, 1978.

The patent was issued Nov. 13, 1979. Since that time, Mayfield hasn't been idle.

He works as a steel pourer in the BOF Department at Granite City Steel, but on his days off he has been searching for a different type of manufacturer for his invention—one that works with plastic moldings.

Mayfield spent hours researching the properties of plastics, learning all the time.

Finally, he found Roger Walsh, who works with a St. Louis firm.

Walsh explained to Mayfield the various processes in working with plastic materials and suggested that he

Man dies in crash

James A. "Butch" Kee, 22, of St. Louis, was killed when his car hit the rear of a tractor-trailer truck in the 500 block of McCambridge Avenue, Madison, at 3:45 a.m. Friday.

The Madison Fire Department's rescue squad was summoned to the scene to extricate Mr. Kee from his vehicle. He was taken by a Granite City Fire Department ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

Authorities said that CPR still was in progress when Mr. Kee arrived at the SMC emergency room at 4:07 a.m. Friday, but there were no vital signs. He was pronounced dead by Madison County Deputy Coroner Dick Mizell.

According to police, Mr. Kee was traveling south on McCambridge Avenue (Route 203) when his 1978 Monte Carlo struck a tractor-trailer truck operated by Olaf Venter, 38, of Pittsburgh, Pa.

Mr. Kee was driving on McCambridge, moving slowly while looking for road signs, and saw a car coming behind him.

"I thought he'd seen me," the truck driver said. "But he didn't and struck my trailer in the right rear."

Venter was not hurt. The 1973 International truck he was operating is owned by the Ace Doran Hauling Co. of Cincinnati, Ohio, which has a facility in the Madison-Venture area.

Mr. Kee resided with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James (Virgie) Johnson, in St. Louis.

He was employed as a mail clerk by the National General Insurance Co., St. Louis.

Mr. Kee was of the Baptist faith.

Beside his parents, Mr. Kee is survived by several brothers and sisters.

Services were held at 9 a.m. today, Feb. 23, at Kriegshauser South Funeral Home, St. Louis. Graveside services followed at 2 p.m. Monday at Madden Cemetery, Iberia, Mo.

County feud on 'imported' cars

Not all of this area's automobile import problems relate to vehicles shipped to America from overseas, it was made clear at last week's Madison County Board meeting.

The county decided to "import" 43 new sheriff's department patrol cars from Missouri, and a lot of people are dissatisfied with the decision, including government officials and auto agency operators and employees.

Fifteen dealers submitted bids but only two were given active consideration. The other 13 were said to have failed to comply with bidding specifications.

Some auto agencies felt the principal requirement was for four-door models, but it was contended at the meeting that six-cylinder engines and front-wheel-drive mechanisms also were required. Among U.S.-made autos, only General Motors "X-body" cars like the Buick Skyark meet such specifications, others asserted.

Forty-three Skylarks are being cheaper, he should have. We have to go by what's in the bid."

Even with the $1,807 difference, Tallierico said, buying the cars from Ackerman will cost the county more in the long run because of the time and expense involved in taking the vehicles to the garage for warranty servicing.

"Why send business out of the county?" he asked—a point echoed by many other dealers.

"It's bad politics and bad business," said Allan Broadhead, president of the St. Clair-Madison Counties Automobile Dealers Association. He said he thinks tax-supported governmental bodies should try to make purchases within their own jurisdictions or, at least, in the same state, whenever possible.

Major Knezevich said Ackerman has not spelled out in his bid. Major Ewin Knezevich of the department commented, "If he could have bid it cheaper, he should have. We have to go by what's in the bid."

two employees who reside in the Edwardsville area and will "ferry" the autos to and from Ackerman for needed service. He added that one of the two is the agency's service manager who pledged to take "special interest" in meeting the county's needs.

Even so, the cost of fuel to get the cars to and from St. Louis County probably will result in the county spending slightly more over the life of the vehicles than if they had been purchased from Four Flags, Knezevich acknowledged.

The sheriff department had recommended acceptance of either the Ackerman or Four Flags bid, without expressing any preference between the two. The original board vote was unanimous for Ackerman, based on the urging of the Central Services Committee. Later in the meeting, Board

60-year term for baby's death

The man convicted of beating an 8-month-old Granite City girl to death in her home Oct. 17, 1980, was sentenced Friday to serve 60 years in prison.

George L. Doggett Jr., 24, Collinsville, was sentenced by Circuit Judge A.A. Matosian to the 60-year sentence under Illinois' enhanced sentencing law which allows the maximum 40-year sentence for murder to be doubled to a maximum of 80 years in cases where "exceptionally brutal and heinous behavior" is shown.

Defense Attorney John Rekowski told reporters he intends to appeal both the conviction and the severity of the sentence.

Doggett was convicted by a jury Jan. 16 of the murder of Brandy Marie Fickler, 2014 W. 20th St., in the Collinsville home.

She suffered numerous wounds which experts contended were caused by repeated beating with a hard blunt object. Among the experts testifying was child-abuse specialist and chairman of the radiology department at Cardinal Glennon Memorial Hospital, Dr. Armand E. Broder.

Doggett contended he accidentally dropped the baby. Dr. Broder and others contended the fatal injuries could not have occurred in a fall. Brandy suffered a fractured skull and ruptured liver and Assistant State's Attorney Susan Jensen reminded the judge Friday that the injuries were from two blows to the head and one to the abdomen, all using "an inordinate amount of force."

She sought the enhanced maximum sentence of 80 years for Doggett. When Doggett took the witness stand in his defense Friday, he wept and told the judge he loved Brandy like his own child. He had been living with Brandy's mother, Lucille Fickler, of Granite City, when the death occurred.

Eight other character witnesses described Doggett as kind and loving to children. His half-brother, Danny Brown, told the court that Doggett once risked drowning to carry Brandy from a lake they had fallen in.

Rekowski said Doggett should not "carry the sins of the whole world" because of extensive news coverage recently about child abuse cases unrelated to Doggett.

Judge Matosian said he considered numerous factors in the sentence, including Doggett's two prior felony convictions for burglary and a misdemeanor conviction for criminal damage to property.

The judge also said he found no factors calling for a light sentence, while there were many factors for an extended term.

City trying to stop truck traffic on 25th Street

An ordinance passed by the Granite City Council will prohibit trucks from using more than one block of 25th Street between Madison Avenue and the railroad crossing into North Granite, the new ordinance can be enforced.

The ordinance is designed to prohibit trucks of all kinds, including cement trucks, from using 25th Street, a residential street as a direct path between North Granite and Madison Avenue, since residents are complaining that heavy trucks are shaking and damaging their homes.

The ordinance came as a surprise to the aldermen, including the aldermen of that ward, who asked where the ordinance originated. Mayor Schuler responded that he had asked City Attorney John Papa to draft the ordinance "at the persistence of the citizens of that area."

Papa said the ordinance prohibits trucks from traveling more than one block on 25th Street without making a delivery on that street. He said it has been used elsewhere where load limits have proven unenforceable and the new law has been upheld in Illinois courts elsewhere.

Alderman Roy Rualos of the Third

Ward asked, "Where is all this traffic going to go? Most of it is in the Third Ward now. That's not enforceable. You might just catch a stray once in a while," he concluded.

Alderman Charles Douglas of the First Ward objected to the ordinance as taking a "piecemeal approach" to traffic control. "We need to take an overall approach," Douglas said in voting against placing the ordinance on final reading.

Papa said he hopes the trucking firms will choose to use Missouri Avenue or West Ponton Road to reach their destinations, rather than 25th Street, if they are aware of the ordinance.

He also said he believes the ordinance can be enforced. "The research I have done indicates we have a fighting chance to enforce our ordinance," he said.

Douglas, who has argued in the past against putting new ordinances on final passage the night they are presented voted against suspending the rules for final passage. He and Poulos were the only ones voting no.

However, when it came to a vote to give final passage to the ordinance, Poulos cast the only negative vote. All members of the council were present when the vote was taken.

Restaurant fire blamed on furnace

The investigation into the cause of a fire which destroyed Gleason's Family Restaurant (formerly George Lind's) in American Village Shopping Center, Feb. 12, concluded late last week and authorities now believe a faulty furnace caused the inferno.

Damage has been estimated in excess of $20,000. The investigation into the cause of the fire was hampered by the cold and ice last week and by the fact that the fire had spread on top of the floor and the evidence.

Last week, Granite City Police Detective Craig Norn, Assistant Fire Chief George Smolich and Charlie Cima from Pyro-tec, an investigative firm hired by the insurance company, went to work cutting the roof into sections and moving it piece by piece from the building.

After removing several areas, the investigators concluded that the fire was a "high burn," concentrating at first in the upper ceiling and roof area. There were no signs of a low burn or accumulation, such as gasoline, used in the fire," Norn explained.

He also showed wall studs which were only scorched along the bottom half, but were charred all the way through near the top, saying that was another sign of a high burn.

Natural gas was ruled out since there was no sign of an explosion, which would have blown the windows out.

Possible sources of starting a high burning fire then were explored and the investigators discovered that the building had several furnaces mounted in the ceiling. One of the furnaces was found to have a hole blown in the side "larger than my head," and a crack in the side "you could put your hand in."

"My conclusion is that the furnace exploded for some unknown reason and there were blowouts of flame through all of the heating vents causing several areas of the ceiling to burst into flame at the same time. It could have been a spontaneous combustion in the furnace or a bad release switch," Norn said.

The insurance company which carried the policy on the building, Miller's Mutual, plans to hire a furnace expert to remove that furnace from the building and attempt to determine a cause of the furnace's malfunction, he added.

He said he did not believe the building

Venice Town to pay inspections

Low-income residents of the Benjamin Subdivision and other areas of Venice Township which are in the Four Township Sanitary Sewer District may apply with the township for grants to pay their $25 inspection fee, Venice Township Supervisor Christ Pashoff announced yesterday.

Pashoff said revenue sharing grant funds will be used to pay the tap-on permit fee for low-income residents of the township.

Pashoff said there are no specific income guidelines to qualify for the assistance and township officials will determine if a financial hardship exists to qualify a family for the help.

Pashoff also issued a statement disagreeing with Louis Whitwell, chairman of the county's special sewer committee, over whether Chouteau, Venice or Nameoki Township warrants the $23,000 back check which advanced for the preliminary planning for the new sewers.

Whitwell said none of the townships have indicated a pressing need to have the loans repaid and the sewer district is in debt, so it may take years to repay.

Pashoff responded, "We want money back and Dick Sparks (superior of Chouteau Township) told me they want theirs back too and you can quote us."

SIFTING THROUGH RUBBLE, fire investigators Craig Norn, left, and Assistant Fire Chief George Smolich search for clues to the cause of a fire which destroyed Gleason's Family Restaurant one week ago. An intensive investigation has led to the belief that a furnace explosion caused flames to be forced out the heat vents and start the fire throughout the building in a matter of moments.

Weis, Farrell honored for S. Ill. construction progress

Byron Farrell and Robert Weis have been awarded the Industry Advancement Foundation award by the Southern Illinois Builders Association for their work as co-chairmen of the labor-management group, Image.

The Industry Advancement Foundation (IAF) award is called the most prestigious in the Southern Illinois construction industry.

Although nominations are accepted each year, an IAF award is not necessarily presented yearly. Trustees of the Foundation make the decision and, when a fully deserving candidate is nominated, the award is presented.

Award recipients are individuals who "give unselfishly of their time and effort to better the construction industry." The IAF is the official industry spokesman for the promotion and advancement of construction in this area.

As co-chairmen of Image, Farrell and Weis have helped develop the joint labor-management organization into an active force in issues affecting the construction industry.

Image promotes the concept of on-time, low-cost construction practices through the cooperation of labor and management leaders.

Farrell, vice-president of Helmkamp Construction Co. in Wood River and management co-chairman of Image, is the immediate past president of the Southern Illinois Builders Association. He has been a leader in industry affairs through participation in local and national organizations, including serving on several national committees for the Associated General Contractors of America.

Weis is business manager of Bricklayers Local 65 and labor co-chairman of Image. He is a member of the Southern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission and president of the Illinois State Conference of Building and Allied Craftmen.

A spokesman commented, "Construction is the name of the game in any business, and Image has opened the lines of communication in the construction industry."

"It's co-chairmen, Byron Farrell and Robert Weis, have worked long and hard to overcome obstacles that have stood in the way for years."

"Due to Image, those barriers are beginning to fall, and a new era of prosperity and economic growth is dawning in our area's construction market."

"As recipients of the Industry Advancement Foundation award, they join a select group of individuals recognized for their extra effort in promoting the advancement of the construction industry in Southern Illinois."

Encyclopedias to Venice schools

Cliff A. James, host of KSDQ's "5," will present a 30-volume set of the Encyclopedia Britannica to the Venice School District library on Monday, March 2, at 1:35 p.m.

The Lovejoy School band under the direction of Miss Carolyn Turnbough and George Hudson will perform during this assembly, which was scheduled in February to honor Brotherhood Week. Students representing Venice High School on the quiz show were Paul Walker, Gwen West, Lorne Wray, Lan Arnold, Danny Fleg and Neal Mize.

Ken Perkins and Mrs. Irene Orr were the coaches. Perkins will introduce St. James, Johnnie Guest, a junior at Venice High, will introduce the directors of the Lovejoy band. Mrs. Linda Cottrell will be the toastmaster.

The school administrators are Robert N. Vickers, superintendent; John Rush, principal; Clarence Hand, assistant principal; and Mrs. Althea Cross, director, Title VI Project Micro.

GC library acquires art prints for loan

The Granite City Public Library, 2001 Delmar Ave., recently purchased a collection of art reproductions which may be checked out by GCPL cardholders for an eight-week period. The pictures represent a variety of styles and subjects and each is suitably framed.

The titles of the art reproductions with the names of the artists are as follows: "Roses" and "On the Terrace," Pierre Auguste Renoir; "A Young Girl Reading," Jean-Henri Fragonard; "Pouncing Sun," Frederick J. Waugh; "Sunflowers," Claude Monet; "Twilight," Maxfield Parrish; "Yellow Tulips," Ida Pellé; "Roses and Iris," Yun Shouping; "Monterey, California," Thomas Moran; "Harbor at Lorient," Berthe Morisot; "Garden Gate," Jan van Huysum; "Sunflowers and Dragonfly," Hui Chi Mau. Other prints will be added.

The library will continue to borrow art prints from the Lewis & Clark Library System to supplement its own collection. Granite Cityans are invited to visit the library and borrow an art print to decorate their home or office.

Registration method revised

Major changes will occur in the registration schedule at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville for the spring quarter.

Eugene Magac, acting director of admissions and record, said, "It is important for students to be aware of these changes, since they represent a departure from previous registration patterns."

"The most important change is in the scheduling of late registration. Instead of the usual five-day period, there will only be two days of late registration."

"In addition to improving the registration process, the changes in scheduling will increase class attendance during the first week of classes, and allow academic units to allocate faculty resources more effectively."

"The university will concentrate on providing full services for students during appointment registration (March 2-3) and open registration (March 4-5)."

"On these four days, all the services necessary to complete the registration process will be available."

including facilities for obtaining fee deferments, paying tuition, and collecting course materials. Students unable to register during these four days will be able to enroll in classes March 9 to March 30, 31 in the Randleman Building lobby. However, Magac said, students registering after March 5 may find it difficult to obtain the classes they need.

Spring quarter registration hours are by appointment only. March 2 from 1 until 7 p.m. and March 3 from 8:30 a.m. until 7 p.m. in Meridian Ballroom. And open registration, March 4 from 8:30 until 7 p.m. and March 5 from 8:30 a.m. until 5 p.m. at the same location.

Two additional days of open registration will be March 9 and 10 from 8:30 a.m. until 7 p.m. in the Randleman Building lobby.

Late registration will be March 30 and 31 during the same hours and at the same location. No registration will be permitted after March 31, Magac said.

WIN has $220,000 available for on-the-job training

The Madison County and St. Clair County Work Incentive Program (WIN) have over $220,000 available for on-the-job training (OJT) contracts. With an OJT contract, an employer may be reimbursed for on-the-job training costs, as much as half the employees wages, for the training period.

The WIN Program is a federally-funded, state administered employment and job training program for recipients of Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC). The program requires that everyone over the age of 16 years who apply for or receive AFDC register for WIN unless exempt because of illness, age or children under the age of six.

According to the U.S. Department of Labor Office of Information, the WIN Program helped 284,000 welfare applicants and recipients get jobs last year saving about $96 million in federal funds, more than double the cost of the program.

Funding for WIN in fiscal year 1980 was $365 million. The total reduction in AFDC grants for fiscal 1980 was $82.4 million. There were additional estimated savings of $131 million in food stamps and $203 million in medical health services.

Half of the new job holders earned enough so they and their families could leave welfare altogether. Welfare payments to the other new workers were reduced.

In addition to the OJT contracts, the WIN Program offers a federal income tax credit to employers who hire WIN registrants. This credit is 50 percent of first year wages up to $6,000 paid to an employee in a trade or business, and 25 percent of second year wages up to $6,000. Employers of household employees may claim a tax credit of 35 percent of the first $6,000 for one year only.

For further information on the WIN Program: WIN-OJT or WIN Tax Credit, Contact the St. Clair County WIN Office at 271-3200 or the Madison County WIN Office at 451-2600.

Bill for legal advice surprises commission

Who ever heard of getting a bill for legal advice? Apparently everyone except some governmental bodies, such as the Granite City Board of Fire and Police Commissioners.

In a letter to the Granite City Council read Tuesday night, Weldon Burch, chairman of the board of commissioners, said he had sought an opinion from the State Board of Fire and Police Commissioners on the status of Firefighter William Hebert, who is running for city treasurer.

Burch got a response from a Chicago-area law firm, along with a $504 bill. Burch told the council he was shocked by the bill and noted he had never been charged for an opinion from the State Board of Fire and Police Commissioners before.

He said he contacted the law firm in Chicago, which said it served as legal advisor to the state board. Burch said he protested that the bill was too high and the attorney he talked to reduced the bill to $200.

Burch then asked the city council whether he should pay the bill.

Mayor Paul Schuler said the bill "is for legal advice, which I think is proper," and suggested the council approve its payment.

Alderman Roy Poulos of the Third Ward asked why the city attorney was not asked for the legal opinion and Schuler responded, "To avoid any kind of conflict, they sought an opinion from an unbiased person."

Alderman Lloyd Bailey of the Fifth Ward also objected, saying a free opinion could have been obtained from the attorney general's office or other governmental body.

"There should be some place to get that free and save that money," Bailey said.

Schuler explained, "The problem is they (the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners) have never been charged for opinions before."

Alderman Charles Douglas of the First Ward, who is an attorney, made a motion that the city write the law firm, ask why the city is being charged for the first time, and pay the bill, if there is an adequate explanation.

Since Hebert subsequently resigned from the fire department, the contents of the legal opinion was not made public.

FORGERY PROBATION

Three women residing at 1739 Edison Ave. have been placed on one-year probation by Circuit Judge A. A. Matosian and ordered to pay $192 restitution for forgery occurring Oct. 16. Those sentenced were Patricia Liss, 25, of Apartment A, Jeanne M. Beyer, 26, of Apartment B and Linda K. Tannahill, 26, of Apartment C.

2-YEAR PROBATION

Circuit Judge Philip J. Rarick has ordered two-year probation for Andrew Lee Jones, 23, of 1203 Market St. Venice, on aggravated battery. The offense took place Dec. 2 in Madison.

NAACP march, tea to honor Dr. King

The Madison Branch of NAACP will sponsor a memorial march at 12 noon Saturday, April 4, commemorating the 13th anniversary of the death of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., it was announced today.

The noted black leader, 39, was assassinated April 4, 1968, in Memphis, Tenn.

All area organizations, clubs and individuals are invited to participate in the march, according to Mrs. Helen Clemons King, branch president, and the Rev. John Henry Williams, program chairman.

Those participating in the parade may walk or drive and signs may be carried, Mrs. King said.

The day after the memorial march on Sunday, April 5, the Madison NAACP Branch will host a spring tea at the Venice Recreation Center, 305 Broadway, Venice, from 2 p.m. until 4 p.m.

The Honorable Chief Justice Joseph H. Goldenhersh of the Illinois Supreme Court will be guest speaker at the tea. The public is invited.

Tickets for the tea, costing $2 each, may be obtained from NAACP officers and members, Mrs. King advised.

Additional information about either event may be obtained from Rev. Williams at 452-5124 or Mrs. King at 451-2370.

Freshman orientation Tuesday at North HS

Next fall's incoming freshmen at Granite City High School North and their parents are invited to attend Freshman Orientation Night at 7 o'clock Tuesday, Feb. 24, at the school.

The orientation event, originally scheduled Feb. 10, was postponed due to inclement weather.

The program will start with North Principal Gilbert V. Wamsley welcoming the students and parents at a general session in the school cafeteria.

Also present will be school counselors and department heads.

Education plans and majors available through various study courses will be outlined.

After the general meeting, three separate sessions will take place during which parents and students may talk personally with the heads of different departments, such as English, science and shop, regarding future plans, Wamsley advised.

Found innocent in burglary trial

In a trial conducted by Circuit Judge Philip J. Rarick this month, Ruptly Lynn Hendrix, 22, M 2122 Lee Ave. was found innocent of a Nov. 28 Granite City burglary.

It had been alleged that items valued at about $10,000 were missing from the Nicholas home in the 2500 block of Edison Avenue. Police contended they recovered most of the items after obtaining a search warrant for the Hendrix residence.

Mrs. Kay Hahne heads Madison bike-a-thon

Jack Buck, chairman of the Gateway Chapter of the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation, has named Mrs. Kay Hahne chairman of the CF Bike-A-Thon in Madison.

Mrs. Hahne will be conducting the Bike-A-Thon this spring to raise funds which will support research and care for children affected by cystic fibrosis.

Cystic fibrosis is a fatal lung and digestive disease affected by one in every 1,500 babies born in the United States. Both parents carry the recessive CF gene and number one in 20 persons who may be carriers, without knowing it.

With continued research, a fast should be discovered to determine who the carriers of the CF gene are. At this point, 50 percent of the CF patients are living to enjoy their 18th birthday and beyond, due to improved therapy.

"Most people do not realize that by participating in our Bike-A-Thon, you can help these children who can't take breathing for granted, and have a lot of fun while you're at it," said Mrs. Hahne.

Probation for damage to auto

Circuit Judge George Moran Jr. has sentenced Brady Hefner, 5233 Lakeview Drive, to one year of probation. He also was ordered to make restitution of $563.

Hefner was alleged to have criminally damaged property on New Year's Day of 1981.

Police pursued his auto after being told that a parked car had been struck by a station wagon similar to the one Hefner was driving. A high-speed chase occurred in the vicinity of Division Street and Central Lane.

It was alleged that the Hefner vehicle skidded into a ditch and that, as he was trying to drive out of the ditch, his auto rammed a Pontoon Beach police car three times.

use Lexan, the GE polycarbonate, which is 60 mm thick and flexible, but sturdy enough to do the job.

Walsh again came to the rescue and helped the Granite City man obtain twenty-six 4-x-8-foot sheets of the material by "lacking it on" to a large order going to Boeing Aircraft in California.

Mayfield still wasn't out of the woods. He then had to form the material to the shape of his invention.

He looked into injection molding, but found it too expensive and ended up having a die made and stamped out by Fairlane Industries, St. Louis.

Mayfield takes the stamped product home and does the final thermoforming of the wand there, using a "secret process."

The recorders wand currently is being test marketed at Coop Records, largest store in the Peoria area and, hopefully, soon will be available in the chain's Granite City store.

The wand is available locally at Tri-City Printing Co., 1814 Delmar Ave., or from the inventor at 2840 Fortune Drive.

Other area record firms are considering stocking the product, he said. In addition to working for the past 3 1/2 years at Granite City Steel, Mayfield is active in the Granite City Emergency Services and Disaster Agency (Civil Defense) and serves as the administrative aide.

He started in Civil Defense with the auxiliary police in 1956 and held the rank of captain in charge of operations. He became assistant CD coordinator and Radiological Defense Officer in 1967 and continues to serve in the latter post.

Prior to the recorders wand, Mayfield patented an anchor mount accessory for aluminum fishing boats, but has yet to see this invention in production.

Area merchants interested in stocking the recorders wand, which comes with a highly visible display board, are invited to contact the inventor at 451-1285.

The suggested retail price of the wand is $1.29, which seems a small price to pay to safeguard those expensive LP records.

REV. JAMES SHORTAL

Church history course to start here tomorrow

Donald J. Gehlhausen, consultant for adult enrichment in the Catholic Education Office of the Springfield diocese, has announced an adult enrichment course to be held in Granite City.

The Rev. James M. Shortal will offer a 6-week course entitled American Church History—The Experience in America on Tuesday evenings, 7 to 9 o'clock, beginning tomorrow at the Sacred Heart Rectory.

This course will be a historical survey of the Catholic Church in America.

"From the days of colonization to the renewal of Vatican II, Catholics have been very much a part of the New World, looking for a new land, a new hope and a new freedom."

Father Shortal will consider in this course how God has worked in and through the lives of His people in the building of His kingdom in the United States," Gehlhausen said.

Member Homer Henke sought to have the vote reconsidered but failed to gain majority approval to do so.

Some dealers object to the extent of detail in the specifications. F. G. Stevenson, president of Quality Pontiac of Alton, said his bid was lower than those of Four Flags and Ackerman, and that he was unaware the Phoenix cars he offered did not meet the requirements.

Quality bid on a hatchback model without a heavy-duty (80-ampere) alternator. "We bid the only four-door we make," Stevenson commented. "It takes a lot of time to work up these bids, and we wouldn't have bid if we knew we weren't going to be considered."

Knezevich said that when the specifications were being drawn up, his department was unaware it was "in effect limiting the bidding to Buick Skylarks and Oldsmobile Omegas."

"We also were unaware that Chrysler offers no six-cylinder K-cars," he added.

Phil Berger of Wally Berger Buick in Alton said that "with the amount of taxes these dealers bring into the county, they should have kept the business in Madison County" in view of the closeness of the bids.

The 43 autos will replace a like number of the department's present cars, 30 of which are leased. The rest are large 1977 models.

Money to buy the 1981 cars will come from $252,820 in federal revenue sharing funds budgeted for the purpose, plus a $57,467 allocation of revenue sharing funds approved by the County Board at the suggestion of its Finance and Central Services committees.

Accost woman, steal purse

Thelma Turner of the 1000 block of Market Street, Venice, was knocked down from the rear by two men who stole her purse while she was walking through a field, near the Ace Doran Trucking firm, off Fox Brothers Road, last week.

Mrs. Turner told Madison police the two men, both black, knocked her down, causing her to strike her head on the ground, before grabbing the purse and fleeing.

The purse contained coins, medicine and personal papers, she said.

involved in the burglary.

Neighbors reported that a blue van had been seen in the area of the home about 10 p.m. Thursday and students were asked about the van, as well as their whereabouts at the time of the burglary.

At least two of the students were in the building trades program, he added.

The students' statements, including contentions that they fenced the stolen items for $90 from a Granite City businessman, led to issuance of a search warrant for Nameoki Road business. The owner was said to be a former Granite City official who has a police record.

County detectives and Granite City police searched the business in the presence of the owner at 5:30 a.m. Saturday and allegedly recovered all of the items in the building.

The owner was arrested at the site of the search and charges will be sought today against him, the juvenile and two other North students.

Traffic charge cites two girls

While operating a radar patrol on Terrace Lane at Clark Avenue at 8 p.m. Friday, officers halted a vehicle being driven with one headlight and allegedly found a quantity of beer inside the car.

The driver, Vicki Marler, 18, of 2037 Fourteenth St., was charged with illegal transportation of alcohol when two cartons of bottled beer and two open bottles of beer allegedly were found on the vehicle's front floorboards.

Officers said the two open bottles were on the floor near the feet of a passenger, a 16-year-old Madison girl, who was charged with illegal possession of alcohol.

Steal revolver from residence

Venice Police Sergeant John Crook reported last week that a burglar had broken into his residence during the noon hour and stolen his .38 caliber Smith & Wesson service revolver.

The home had been ransacked with drawers left open and clothes strewn about the floor.

The intruder gained entry by throwing a brick through a rear door window and reaching inside to unlatch the door.

The holster in which the weapon was kept was left laying on a bed, Sgt. Crook said.

Arrest 4 in theft from building trades house

Granite City police plan to apply today for felony warrants against a former Granite City official and three Granite City High School North students in connection with the theft of items valued at approximately $2,300 from the building trades home students are building at 2138 Hamilton Drive, Thursday night or early Friday, and the subsequent "fencing" of the stolen merchandise for $90 with the former city official.

Madison County authorities declined to name those involved today, pending approval of charges by the Madison County state's attorney's office.

According to Detective Sgt. Charles Zukas of the sheriff's department, a combination oven and microwave oven and two central air conditioning units and a coil for the units were removed from the home being constructed by building trades students on Hamilton Drive.

Since there were no signs of forced entry, according to Zukas, school officials agreed to help investigate whether some of the North High School students who had last been working on the building might have been in-

Quad-City ministers to hear mayor candidates

The Quad-Cities Ministerial Association has invited the three mayoral candidates of Granite City to its March 2 meeting.

Paul Schuler, Dan Partney and Warren Decatur have accepted the invitation to give a brief presentation to the ministerial group extended by the president, The Rev. Don F. Pierson.

The group will be the guests of the St. Elizabeth

Medical Center. A noon luncheon will be served according to Pastor Pierson, after which the candidates will be presented to the group.

To assist the host organization, it is requested that clergymen planning to attend call the Nameoki Presbyterian Church at 877-4470 or the Trinity Methodist Church at 877-0723 by Thursday, Feb. 26.

The Quad-Cities Ministerial Association provides an opportunity for the exchange of ideas, the sharing of concerns and growth in professional competence for ministers from a variety of religious backgrounds. It also provides a forum for community issues to be aired and an opportunity to become acquainted with the resources the community provides to meet human needs.

"We welcome the opportunity for pastors of all persuasions to be a regular part of our fellowship," states Rev. Pierson. He added that the April 6 meeting will host the area director of "THEOS" (They through their elected representatives, to decide how much bus service they want and are willing to pay for).

"The president is telling the country that it is a local decision versus a national decision as to how the bus system should be funded. Our job at Bi-State is to provide the service, but there must be enough income to cover the costs of operation."

At present, about 22 percent of Bi-State's transit operating cost is paid by the federal government.

Bi-State is not alone in receiving a federal subsidy — almost all transit authorities nationwide are federally subsidized.

The rest of Bi-State's transit operating cost is paid by the farebox (25 percent), local and state assistance (48 percent), and charter and other miscellaneous income (16 percent).

Fifth of bus funds may be phased out

The impact on the Bi-State transit system of President Reagan's proposed economic recovery plan for the nation will be determined by the people of the Bi-State area, according to Charles G. Houghton, executive director of the Bi-State Development Agency.

"It appears that if the proposed transit plan is approved by Congress, it will be up to the people we serve, through their elected representatives, to decide how much bus service they want and are willing to pay for."

"The president is telling the country that it is a local decision versus a national decision as to how the bus system should be funded. Our job at Bi-State is to provide the service, but there must be enough income to cover the costs of operation."

The rest of Bi-State's transit operating cost is paid by the farebox (25 percent), local and state assistance (48 percent), and charter and other miscellaneous income (16 percent).

The president's proposal would terminate federal operating subsidies by 1985.

Approval would mean that if service were maintained at the present level, a 10 percent federal funding would have to be replaced by additional income from other sources.

The apparent alternatives to this suggestion would be increased passenger fares, decreased service or a combination.

At present, it costs about $10 for each passenger carried on a Bi-State bus. The basic fare is 50 cents. The system operates 150 bus lines in the St. Louis metropolitan area.

"The Development Agency assumed responsibility for the 15 private bus companies in 1963," Houghton concludes that the time has come when local elected officials must decide, with the people's advice, if public transportation is a necessity like fire and police protection. If it is, we need to work together to find the means to resolve this issue."

Froemling board chairman at Madison-Federal here

Albert "Al" Froemling who first joined the staff at Madison County Federal Savings and Loan Association in 1959 and has been its president since 1966, has resigned as association president and was elected chairman of the board of directors in the annual meeting last week. The resignation was accepted in the meeting.

The directors elected Paul F. Sodko as president. Sodko joined the association as controller in 1975 and assumed the additional responsibilities of secretary-treasurer two and one-half years later.

Other new officers elected were:

J. L. Winning, was vice president, elected vice president and secretary. Marilyn C. Harris, was assistant secretary, elected assistant vice president.

Officers re-elected were C. P. Specking, vice president; Jacqueline Logan, assistant vice president; Joyce N. Coy, assistant secretary; and Gladys Bliss, assistant secretary.

Directors re-elected included Orie T. Dunlap, Edwardsville; C. A. Henning, Troy; John W. Reese and Paul F. Sodko, Granite City.

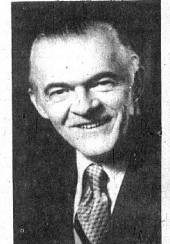

Holdover directors are: Froemling, Edwardsville; Gene A. Adams, Troy; Raymond F. Koulek and John L. Palchiff, Madison; Kenneth J. Hillmer, Southwestern Illinois Chapter and district governor of the Financial Managers Society for Savings Institutions, serving Southern Illinois, Missouri and Kansas; Board of Directors Institute of Financial Education for the Savings & Loan Industry; Member American Institute of Certified Public Accountants; member and past treasurer and director of Granite City Rotary Club.

"I want to be free to travel and enjoy my family without the rigors of conducting the daily routine of the business of our association," said Froemling. "These past 22 years, that I've spent with Madison County Federal Savings and Loan have been both most happy and rewarding. I shall always cherish the friendships I have made. Since I intend to spend time in the office though on a reduced schedule, I would hope that customers will feel free to visit with me concerning their financial affairs," he stated.

The 63-year-old Froemling attended Loyola University in Chicago and subsequently attended and graduated from St. Louis University. He has been active in the affairs of the community and has served on various civic and industry committees. He holds membership in the following organizations:

Tri-City United Way (past president); Cahokia Mounds Council BSA (past treasurer); Granite City Rotary Club (past president); Chamber of Commerce of the Tri-City (past president); Illinois Savings and Loan League (past director); Independent Insurance Agents of Illinois (past president); American Institute of Certified Public Accountants; American Institute of Savings and Loan Institute; and Hope Lutheran Church of Granite City.

Froemling and his wife Carmie reside at 45 Lakewood, Rural Route 4, Edwardsville. They are parents of two children, Linda Bristol who resides in Lakewood with husband Steve. A son, Robert, a dentist, resides in Glen Carbon, with his wife Laura.

Following his graduation from Southern Illinois University at Carbondale, Sodko, a certified public accountant, was employed by the accounting firms of Peat, Marwick Mitchell and Lester Witte & Co. Prior to joining Madison County Federal Sodko was associated with Illini Federal Savings and Loan Association. He has also served as accounting instructor at Lewis & Clark College.

He is active in many local and national organizations including Beta Alpha Psi, the honorary accounting fraternity, President, Southwestern Illinois Chapter and district governor of the Financial Managers Society for Savings Institutions, serving Southern Illinois, Missouri and Kansas; Board of Directors Institute of Financial Education for the Savings & Loan Industry; Member American Institute of Certified Public Accountants; member and past treasurer and director of Granite City Rotary Club.

"I opened a branch office in Glen Carbon in 1975 with assets over $24 million, and in February 1976 moved into new main offices at 3600 Nameoki Road. It acquired the United Savings and Loan at Troy in June 1980. The association's assets as of Dec. 31, 1980, were $52,821,788, a 22 percent growth over the past year the meeting was told."

Cash awards for arson hotline tips

Governor James R. Thompson on Thursday proclaimed the week of Feb. 22-28 to be the first annual Arson Prevention Week in Illinois. As part of the observance, the governor announced implementation of "Arson Alert" and the "Illinois Arson Award Program" which further expand statewide efforts to combat arson.

While encouraging widespread application of good fire prevention practices, Thompson particularly asked citizens to be watchful for suspicious activities at fire scenes, to cooperate with fire and police officials, and to report arson-related information through a toll-free number (800-252-2947) called Arson Alert.

Also being implemented in connection with Arson Prevention Week is the arson award program. Thompson explained that it is funded by the Illinois Fair Access to Insurance Requirements (FAIR Plan).

He said it is designed to encourage greater citizen involvement by providing cash awards for information which may lead to the arrest and conviction of arsonists. In 1980, all arson offenses reported to police in Illinois totaled 5,608, an increase of seven percent statewide over 1979.

"Because arson affects us all," Thompson said, "We all must join in the battle against it. A combined attack by the public, government, insurance industry and others can be the most comprehensive of its kind in the nation."

Arlin Davis gets year in drunk driving case

Arlin W. Davis of Collinsville, who has been convicted of three counts of reckless homicide in an accident that took the lives of three Granite City persons, has been sentenced to a one-year jail term on a charge of driving while intoxicated growing out of another accident in which no one was hurt.

Davis, 51, was given two concurrent one-year terms at the minimum-security prison at Vandalia on misdemeanor charges.

Madison County Associate Judge Thomas Hildebrand also imposed a seven-day sentence on Davis, for resisting a Collinsville police officer who was trying to obtain fingerprints, and fined the defendant $10 for failing to respond speed to avoid an accident.

Nobody was hurt in the Nov. 8, 1979, rear-end collision. The accident occurred in Collinsville. Davis is scheduled for sentencing March 3 for his conviction on three reckless homicide charges in the Dec. 31, 1979, deaths of Larry D. Leffman, 42, and his daughters Nichole, 5, and Stacey, 1, all of Granite City, in an accident outside Collinsville.

John Gieppoff of Granite City, attorney for Davis, said that week's sentences will be appealed.

JAIL FOR STABBING

Circuit Judge Philip J. Rarik has sentenced William E. Henderson, 71, of Reynolds St., Madison, to two years of probation and 90 days in the Madison County Jail. Aggravated battery occurred Nov. 6. It was alleged, Michael Garcia, 65, of Madison was stabbed in the abdomen with a steak knife at the Henderson home.

South grapplers win sectional title

RANDY LUPARDUS wrestles Belleville's East's Ken Arnold in the first round of the South Sectional Tournament. Lupardus finished second in the 126-pound division. South easily won the team championship and qualified six wrestlers for the State Finals next weekend at the University of Illinois Assembly Hall in Champaign.

GRANITE CITY — Like a well-oiled machine, Granite City South's wrestling team rolled over its foes like a hot iron, through so much better here Saturday. South qualified five wrestlers for next weekend's state tournament in Champaign, while Granite City North will have five wrestlers going. The Warriors won the 42nd Annual IHSA Sectional Wrestling Tournament here Saturday with ease.

Racking up 91½ points, South outdistanced second place Springfield, which collected 70. North finished in third with 62½ points. It was the fourth sectional trophy for South since the Nov. 1-South split in Granite City division of the high schools and the thirty-first trophy for the Warriors.

"Fifty-nine percent of the teams would have liked to qualify five wrestlers," said Granite City coach Bill Schmitt. "Springfield made a better showing than it did in the past. They were a bit tougher."

It wasn't that hard for South to come up with all these points. The Warriors won five wrestling in championship bouts and one shooting for a third. The Steelers were equally successful when they placed three wrestlers in the finals and one going for third place.

North's Mike Robinson met up with a 36-2 Rob Milazzo of Roxana in his championship bout at 98. But, Robinson, now 27-5-1, lost a tough 4-1 match and placed second. Milazzo is only a sophomore.

Gerald Miller has been tough all year for the Steelers and he looked awesome in his bid to the state tourney. Having only one point scored on him in three bouts, Miller destroyed Jerry Mullen of Springfield, 19-0, to take first place at 112. His record is now 35-1.

Greg Garland of South had to sweat out his semi-final match at 119 with Steve Gauch of Belleville West before he could wrestle on. The bout ended in a 4-4 tie and then in a 6-4 tie after the overtime period. Garland got the referee's criteria decision for the win and went on to defeat Brad Barber of Springfield in the finals, 7-1. Garland's season record is now 32-2.

In the same weight class, North's Steve Smith came back to win third place when he beat Gauch of West, 7-3. Smith is 31-7.

The Warrior's lost a heart-breaker at 126. Randy Lupardus went into his first place bout against David Crowe of Belleville West with a very formidable 27-2-1 record. But, he lost a close 8-4 decision and took second.

On-lookers will have to recognize Glenn Thompson's talent in the state meet. The Steelers' 122-pounder lost a second round bout to Gerg Reif of Jacksonville in overtime. Reif was 31-1. Reif went on to drop a close match to Mark Kristoff of Bethalto, 4-2. Kristoff was 29-1.

Thompson came back to take third place when he beat Bart Master of Herrin, 11-7. His record is 25-11-1. Revenge was on the mind of the Warrior's Tom McElroy. He has lost only two bouts all season and one of those was to Bob Dahm of Belleville West. The rematch at 138 was sweet for McElroy as he faced Dahm (33-0) in the finals and severely beat him, 16-6, to take first place. It improved his record to 30-2.

"Tom wanted to get even because the first time he wrestled Dahm it was a close match," said Schmitt. "I guess, he got more than even."

wrestler that was undefeated going into the tourney, remained so. Dean Perkins of South kept his perfect 35-0 season mark in tact with a win over cross-town rival Scott Corey of North to take his third trip to the state tourney. Perkins won 5-3 for first while Corey, who has lost to Perkins for the third time this season, finished in second. He's 31-7.

South worked its way for another second place finish when Jim Frangouli took a back seat behind Ernie Badger of Mount Vernon. Badger (35-0) won 7-3 as Frangouli suffered only his second loss of the season. He's 31-2-1.

There was no playing around in the heavyweight class. Of the ten bouts throughout the tourney, just one match was a decision. But, North's Steve Smith won by a pin, lost in the next round by a pin and won the next two by pins. He took fourth place when he pinned Larry Walker of Centuria in 1:17. He moves on to state with a 28-6 record.

"The ones who placed for us were the ones I thought would," said Schmitt. "I think the champions turned out to be what everyone picked."

Devils are edged out

VENICE — The Venice Red Devils continued to improve from their late-season slump here Saturday night, but the end result was the same — a loss. Venice lost a squeaker to Sumner (St. Louis) 66-62.

A fourth quarter comeback by the Red Devils fell just short. They outscored Sumner 18-7 in the period, but it wasn't enough. Venice wasn't able to hold onto the lead it had built in the first half. The Red Devils led 16-7 at the end of the first quarter, but were outscored 26-14 in the second quarter resulting in a 33-30 halftime lead for Sumner.

The visiting Sumner squad outscored Venice 14-12 in the third quarter, setting up the Red Devils' last-ditch comeback attempt.

Venice was led by Williams Watts with 13 points. Harold "Smoke" Milton picked up 12 for the Red Devils. Archie Gardner scored 10, while Kenneth Walker had 11. Keith Marchbanks also scored 10 for the Red Devils, who saw their record slip to 7-16 on the season.

In other action Saturday night, Cahokia crushed Alton 82-48. Soldan edged East St. Louis 70-64. Oakville beat Triad 59-44 and Edwardsville downed Breese Mater Dei 89-58.

Other Saturday scores were: East, Louis Lincoln 74, St. Louis Northwest 60; Highland 74, Breese Central 60; Belleville East 76; Belleville West 64; Granite City North 60, Hillsboro 50.

EAST-WEST — Belleville East surprised its cross-town rivals with a 76-64 upset victory Saturday night at East. After being defeated easily by West, 76-49 earlier this season, East's Lancers were ready for revenge. The loss dropped West to 5-3 in the Southwestern Conference and 14-9 overall. The Lancers, on the other hand, raised their Southwestern Conference record to 2-5 and their overall mark to 10-17.

East senior John Bauer led all scorers with 23 points. West had beaten the Lancers by scores of 69-45 and 76-49 earlier this season.

CAHOKIA-ALTON — Cahokia's Jon Collins had a big game for the Comanches in their 82-48 romp over quickly-fading Alton. He scored 20 points and grabbed 14 rebounds.

The Comanches jumped out to a 29-9 lead in the first quarter and never looked back. They led 38-16 at halftime.

Alton's Gordon Green led all scorers with 20 points, but it was far from being enough to halt the Comanches' rout. Only six other Redbirds scored. In all, 11 Cahokia players scored.

TIGERS-KNIGHTS — It was smooth sailing for Edwardsville's Gateway East Conference champion Tigers Saturday night. They dumped Breese Mater Dei easily 89-58 in a non-conference game.

Bruce Dickman was one of four Edwardsville players who scored in double figures. He scored 22 points and pulled down 10 rebounds. All-State candidate center Paul Schaefer scored 19 points. Brad Opel and John Wood scored 14 and 11 points respectively.

Dan Beckemeyer led the Mater Dei Knights' scoring attack with 17 points.

SOLDAN-FLYERS — East St. Louis continued its skid Saturday night with a 70-64 loss to St. Louis-based Soldan High. Tommy Johnson scored 22 points for the Flyers in the losing effort. East St. Louis held a 57-53 lead entering the fourth quarter but was outscored 14-7 in the period.

LINCOLN-N-WEST — East St. Louis Lincoln, ranked number one in the Press-Record large school poll, raised its record to 10-3 on the season with a 74-60 victory over St. Louis Northwest. Todd Porter led the way for the Tigers with 29 points and 17 rebounds in the road victory.

CAHOKIA'S TRIAD — Oakville's Rockets were never behind Saturday night in their 59-44 victory over Triad. The Rockets, second in the Press-Record small school poll, got 22 points from Kevin Obermeier. Junior sensation Greg Renegar had 11 and Mike Stine scored 10 for the Rockets who raised their season record to 24-3.

Mark Martz paced Triad's scoring attack with 17 points. Highland crushed hapless Breese Central 74-60. The Bulldogs were led by Paul Seiberlich's scoring feat wasn't a fluke. Friday night, he poured in 41 points in a loss to O'Fallon.

FRIDAY SCORES — In prep action Friday night, Collinsville crushed Alton 82-33. Wood River dumped Roxana 75-54. Mascoutah downed Jerseyville 58-47. Central downed St. Paul 78-63. Bethalto beat Alton Marquette 77-47. Freeburg beat Lebanon 96-71. Dupu downed New Athens 67-58.

MIKE SULLIVAN of Granite City North soars high for a shot Saturday night at home against Hillsboro. North won for the first time this season, taking 60-50 victory over the Hilltoppers. The first win of the season was also North Head Coach Bill Ohlendorf's 300th career coaching victory.

St. Patrick's Day Run set

ST. LOUIS — More than 2,500 runners are expected to celebrate St. Patrick's Day on March 14 by competing in the third annual Natural Light St. Patrick's Day Run through the streets of downtown St. Louis.

The five-mile "fun run" begins at 10 a.m. at Market and Ninth Streets and finishes in front of the Old Court House. The St. Patrick's Day Run is open to all runners and will include a special one-mile event for children under the age of 13.

"The Natural Light St. Patrick's Day Run is considered one of the most enjoyable runs annually held in St. Louis because it appeals to all runners," said John L. Sullivan, race director. "Kids, joggers and serious runners all get together and have a good time at this run."

The course travels west on Market to Compton, north on Compton to Laclede, west on Laclede to Grand, north on Grand to Olive, east on Olive to Broadway and South on Broadway to the finish line. The annual St. Patrick's Day parade begins at noon at 14th and Olive Streets and passes the reviewing stand in front of the Old Court House before disbarring.

Natural Light beer will host a post-race St. Patrick's Day celebration and awards ceremony at 1 p.m. at Kiel Auditorium. At the party, a film of last year's St. Patrick's Day Run will be shown and refreshments will be served.

The top four finishers in each division of the run will be awarded medals, running gear and merchandise from Natural Light. The top ten runners in each division will win medals. Each entrant receives a race packet which includes the official Natural Light St. Patrick's Day Run

T-shirt, their race number and additional race information. The age competition categories are 9 and under, 10 to 11 and 12 to 13 in the one-mile youth run; and 14 to 19, 20 to 24, 25 to 29, 30 to 34, 35 to 39, 40 to 44, 45 to 49, 50 to 59, and 60 and over for male and female adults.

Last year's overall winner was Mike Sawyer of St. Louis, who completed the five-mile course in 24:37. The top female runner was Carol Cook, also of St. Louis, with a time of 39:43.

For runners who enter the Natural Light St. Patrick's Day Run prior to March 6, the entry fee is $4 or $10 per family. After March 6, the entry fee is $5. Children ages 13 and under may enter for 1/2. The deadline for entry at the run is March 13. Entry forms are available at St. Louis area YMCAs and at many area sporting goods stores. By TOM SCHOCKER of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — They did it. After 21 straight losses this season, Granite City North finally won a game. The Steelers defeated Hillsboro 60-50 here Saturday night. And it was sweet for Coach Bill Ohlendorf and his Steelers.

After you have played 21 straight games without a win, the more losses won't make much difference. But, for North, the twenty-second game was special.

It was the last home contest for the Steelers and senior Rich Takmajian. They were defeating Hillsboro, a team they thought they should have beaten earlier in the year.

Ohlendorf had been shooting for his 300th career coaching victory ever since the start of the season. He finally got it.

"We talked about this game all week and how it was within reach," said Ohlendorf. "I was very optimistic all week. But, our practices this week were not good and I blamed it on the weather. Then we played against (Belleville) West the night before like we practiced. After playing so poorly, I was a little skeptical. When we got down 10-5 to Hillsboro, I had reason to be skeptical."

It looked like it would just be another game for North and another loss. But, buckets by Kendall Whittington, Harold Rody and Carl Luehmann pushed the Steelers into the lead. After a Hippo free throw, Whittington connected again and North had the lead for good.

"It wasn't any stroke of luck that they (North) won," said Hillsboro head coach Harold Scheibel. "The first time we played them (in the Belleville East tourney) they didn't shoot very well and they were right in the game. You put them on your own floor and this time they shot well and simply out-played us."

The Steelers played like a reborn squad. Running fast breaks with confidence, grabbing rebounds and shooting shots with authority didn't look like an 0-21 team. But, North's putting on an outstanding performance.

North used one quarter to obtain its win and Rody made sure it was a good one. Connecting on two free throws that put the Steelers ahead 14-10 in the second quarter, he promptly stole the ball back on Hillsboro's next possession and drilled in a shot. It ignited a fire in the Steelers and Rody went on a rampage.

Trailing six of 10 shots in the quarter, Rody came up with 14 of his game 21 points. The Steelers' had blown the game wide open, out-scoring Hillsboro 24-10.

"Rody has been playing more consistent ball," said Ohlendorf. He has also been North's leading scorer. But, Ohlendorf was given an unexpected surprise when the Steelers held on their momentum through the third quarter. Rody had abruptly cooled off, though.

It's regional time for small schools

during the season — one over the limit set.

Lovejoy's 17-5 record in deceiving. The Wildcats haven't lost to a Class A team all season, and gave East St. Louis Lincoln, the number one ranked large school in the Press-Record poll, all it could handle last week before losing 66-60.

Lovejoy is led by one of the tallest front lines in the state 8 and 9 in Class A or Class AA. Leading the way is 6-7 senior Gerald Stevenson, who was the top player for last season before transferring to Lovejoy this school year. He became eligible to play in January.

Also in the front line are 6-7 junior Calvin Welk and 6-10 sophomore Barry Sumpter, who has improved in leaps and bounds this season.

Stevenson leads the Wildcats in scoring with 20 points per game and is grabbing an average of 11.8 rebounds a game. Sumpter, while tall, isn't the most intimidating figure around. He weighs only 190 pounds. He's in only his second season of organized basketball. He averages 15 points a game and 11 rebounds per game.

Friday night, Lovejoy knocked off the fifth-ranked Class A team in the state, Cairo, 78-76.

Madison's Trojans, meanwhile, are rolling. They haven't lost since a one-point setback at Edwardsville Jan. 31. Their other loss was in overtime at St. Louis McKinley. Included in their victory skein this season are championships in the prestigious Centralia Holiday Tournament and the Dupu Tournament. Patrick Hatter continues to lead the Trojans in scoring with 21 points per game average. Morris Hughes puts in 18 points per game.

Madison escapes at T-Town 75-71

By PETE HAYES

TEUTOPOLIS — Take it from Madison head basketball coach Larry Graham and his Trojans, Teutopolis is a hard place to win a basketball game.

Madison, ranked number one in the Press-Record small school poll and number two in state-wide polls, struggled past Teutopolis here Friday night 75-71 in overtime. The victory raised Madison's record to 22-2. Teutopolis is 11-12. It was the regular season finale for both teams.

The gym at Teutopolis (a community of 1,200 located nine miles from Effingham) is a bit small. And it's always full of screaming fans, most of which are decked out in DeKalb Seed caps, cheering on their beloved Wooden Shoes — that's the name of the team, not what the fans were wearing. Just ask Effingham High head coach Jim Maxedon how hard it is to win at T-Town. Two seasons ago, when Effingham earned a berth in the Class AA Super-Sectional at Carbondale against East St. Louis, it had been upset at T-Town.

Perhaps the Wooden Shoes had a little more incentive to win than did the Trojans. It was their last home game and was also the last home appearance for head coach Lawrence Carrie, who is stepping down after this season.

Whatever the situation, it worked against the Trojans from the outset. Teutopolis roared out to an early lead and held a 21-10 lead at the end of the first quarter.

To say the least, the DeKalb Seed hats were hopping.

Slowly but surely, Madison crept back into the game. The Trojans outscored the Wooden Shoes 18-14 in the second half and trailed 35-28 at the intermission.

The third quarter belonged to the Trojans. They jumped out strong and outscored the Wooden Shoes 24-13 in the frame to grab a 59-40 lead at the third stop. But just as the third quarter had belonged to Madison, the fourth quarter was all Teutopolis.

Behind some strong play by Tom Smith, the Wooden Shoes came from behind to tie the score and send it into overtime. Smith was good for eight points in the turnaround fourth quarter. He finished the game with 25 points, high for both teams. He's the younger brother of Ted Smith, a standout on Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville's basketball team.

Tigers do in Granite South

By TOM SCHOCKER
of the Press-Record

EDWARDSVILLE — It didn't take much to convince Granite City South that it got beat by a good basketball team here Friday.

The Warriors knew what type of squad the Edwardsville Tigers had in case they forgot. Edwardsville reminded them with a 75-54 Gateway East Conference victory. The loss gives South a final conference record of 2-6. It is 7-16 overall.

South head coach Don Detering might get tired of hearing this, but it was just another one of those games. The Warriors couldn't quite get it together and Edwardsville could do no wrong. "Sometimes you can play your damn heart out, but if the other team has more talent than you, the hustle really won't show," said Detering. "We got beat by a hell of a ball team. That's all you can really say."

To roll over and give up because you're playing a team that's much better than them is not the Warriors' style.

Edwardsville, now 22-3, behind a virtually unstoppable duo of Bruce Dickmann and Paul Schaefer, blocked shots, drove through the South defense, scored points and rebounded the gym — for at least three quarters.

"If you key on Schaefer, Dickmann will kill you," said Tiger head coach Bud Vallino. "If you key on both of them, the others will pick up the scoring. So, our defense is pretty well balanced out now."

Dickmann's aggressive play on offense allowed him to muscle his way through the South defense for 17 of his 25 points in the first half. Schaefer tallied off the 40 points he scored the last time he went against the Warriors, but he did throw in 14 in the first half and 20 for the game.

Schaefer is just an outstanding basketball player," said Detering. "If we had a 6-6 player to match up with him, then Dickmann wouldn't have hurt us as much as he did."

With those performances, the Tigers only needed a half of play to open up a comfortable 19 point margin. One that increased to 28 mid way through the third period. But, the Warriors are a die-hard team and they weren't down completely.

Not known for his scoring abilities, Joe Schaefer played his part as South's stable defensive man in the first half and scored just two points. However, with Edwardsville's defense getting stronger as the game went along, Schaefer took it on his own to fire up the shots.

Joined by Ken McManus, the pair combined to score 20 of South's 32 second half points. The Warriors wouldn't give up and after being beaten for three periods came back to win the fourth quarter 22-17. McManus led South with 16 while Schaefer drilled in 12. Despite fouling out, Eric Waltenberger scored 11 points and grabbed seven rebounds.

"I was very pleased about the second half," said Detering. "It showed a lot of character for them to come back. McManus and Schaefer did a heck of a job. We proved that we were not as poor as we played in the first half."

Nobody could do much right for South in the first half, though. Then again, Edwardsville's defense had a big say in the matter. "Defense has been the biggest part of our success," said Vallino. "We can control the inside game and we knew their (South) inside wasn't that strong. So, we put more pressure on the outside. Our press made them play our game."

If Jim Choat would have been in the line-up, the situation might have been different. The Warrior's primary ball-handler was out with the flu. "We really missed Jimmy Choat in the first half," said Detering. "The press bothered us, but Choat could have helped had he been there."

The Warriors needed all the help they could get. They were just physically out-manned. Edwardsville's out-bounced South 45-26 and the Tigers gave up only 54 points.

"We haven't peaked yet," said Vallino. "We should still improve quite a bit. Right now, the defense is on top. In the last 17 games, we haven't let no more than 32 points scored on us. Based on a time schedule, our game is flowing and we're confident."

The only word that Detering is able to use is discouraging. But, he still looks on the realistic side. "Edwardsville has beaten other teams better than us and by more points," said Detering.

PAM ROWDEN

They

"I lost my cool for a while," said Rody. "I was psyched up because we were winning." So, Mike Sullivan took Rody's spot on the baseline and turned on the juice. He went four-for-four in the third period and helped North increase its margin to 20 points.

"We had practiced that corner shot all week," said Sullivan. "Rody and I would switch off and it finally paid off." Sullivan became another torn for Hillsboro as he scored 14 points.

"He (Sullivan) had been up on the varsity with the opening group in pre-season," said Ohlendorf. "But, he needed some experience on the junior varsity. He was just suffering from a lack of experience. Then he was injured and got sick during the season and it held him back a little, but he's coming along fine, now."

Beside North looking and playing like a different team, so was Hillsboro. The player that had burned the Steelers before was not in the line-up until late in the game. In fact, there was only one player starting that had played against North at Belleville.

"We went into this game looking to the future," said Scheibel. "I have played 12 to 14 kids all year and I wanted to take a look at everyone. At 7-6, we couldn't have taken North lightly. They would have beaten us the first time if they had shot better."

The Steeler put the ball in the hole this time, hitting for an even 50 percent from the floor. North placed two other players in double figures. Luehmann pumped in 11 points while Whittington drilled in 10. "The difference in the game is that we put the ball in the hole," said Ohlendorf. "We attacked their defense better."

North's 20-point lead didn't last very long, though and it wasn't about to let another game slip away. "We talked about patience and using time off the clock," said Ohlendorf. "We stopped attacking as aggressively and just tried to nurse the lead along."

If not for themselves, the Steelers were playing the game for their senior and coach. "The game meant a lot to us and we wanted it for Rich (Takmajian) and coach Ohlendorf," said Sullivan.

BELLEVILLE — The Granite City North basketball team went down to defeat for the 21st time this season here Friday night, 84-39.

The West Maroons led 1-2 after the first quarter and never looked back. "A game like this one was a complete waste of time," said North head coach Bill Ohlendorf. But West wasn't exactly looking like a powerhouse, either in that first period.

The Maroons made only three of 17 attempts from the field. The Steelers had eight turnovers and attempted only seven shots from the floor — only one of which went through the hoop.

The closest North could get was 15-7 in the second quarter. But the Steelers were never really in the game.

A top-flight gymnast right here in Granite

Rowden to perform at benefit cage game

Pam Rowden will perform her gymnastics skill this Thursday, Feb. 26 at the ninth annual Officer Friendly Basketball Game at Granite City South High.

She and several of her advanced students from the Park District's advanced gymnastics class, will perform at halftime. Game time is set for 8 p.m. Rowden will perform on the balance beam, uneven parallel bars and in the floor exercise. The game is also sponsored in part by Madison County Federal Savings and Loan.

She completely skipped intermediate and went straight to the advanced level.

"They moved me upped because of my coordination, my technique with the backhandspring and probably because I was gutsy," says Pam. "I would try anything they told me to. I wasn't a whole lot afraid of doing much."

This fiery spirit caught the eye of Dave Sparks and with the help of her father, Pam began competing for the Edwardsville YMCA as a beginner in 1977. She moved up to the intermediate level in 1978.

In 1979, she joined the St. Louis Academy of Gymnastics at the Castle Oak Club as an advanced gymnast. There she placed sixth in state and fifth all-around and competed in the Missouri-Kansas All-Star Meet. This comprised the four best gymnasts from Missouri and four from Kansas. She finished in fourth and scored her highest marks of 9.1 on the bars and vault.

Her future was definitely destined for good things. Now at 16 and a junior at North, Pam is still enjoying her one love. She is an instructor at the Park District Recreation Center with beginner and intermediate classes.

"It's really fun to teach," said Pam. "You come across little kids who might have potential and are eager to learn. I love to work with them."

But, practically seeing herself in her work, Pam still longs for the thrill of competition. "I miss competing so bad," she said. "I always think how great it would be to go back, but I don't know if I could afford the time and effort away from the studies and friends to go back. Because, if I did, it would be gymnastics and only gymnastics. I wouldn't stand for anything less than as good as I was before. But, I had it to do all over. I would keep it about the same."

Just to keep in tune, Pam might turn loose four or five backhandsprings and a lay-out at one of North's basketball games to dazzle the fans. As a cheerleader, she's adds a special touch to the term team spirit.

back from its athletic program and discontinued girls gymnastics. "I think they thought there wouldn't be enough support," explained Pam. "They thought the area schools wouldn't be competing, but Edwardsville and Wood River are still here."

So, part of Pam's life for the past three years was abruptly phased out. The only place I could have competed was in high school," she said. "I didn't have the time to go to the state meets a week where I could have competed."

Disappointed and even mad about the decision, Pam has no regrets about choosing gymnastics. "I had a lot of happiness," she said. "I got to travel and meet people and I will never be sorry about getting into it."

The choice of gymnastics was not entirely hers. But, once made, Pam proved she could compete with the best. She was introduced by her sisters, who were interested in it. They taught her how to do a backhandspring and when they saw how easy Pam perfected it, they had her join the Park District program. She was only eight years old.

For four years, Pam was doing it for fun. She got more interested as she learned more and then her instructors could see her potential. When she first started out, she was only in the beginners class for two

Warriors down Kanhoks for title

COLLINSVILLE — The Granite City South girls basketball team ran into a fiery bunch of Lady Kanhoks here Thursday night in the championship game of the Collinsville Invitational Tournament. But not even a mud-approved Collinsville team could stop South's one-two knockout punch of Chris Boyd and Nita Graham.

South overcame a sputtering first half to take a 21-14 victory and the first place trophy. South first-year head coach Gary Morgan grinned from ear to ear as flash bulbs went off for anxious Lady Warrior fans snapping team pictures.

South forward Susan Jeffries lofted the trophy high over her head. "How bout that," she yelled. "How bout that! A basketball trophy in Granite City!"

To put it simply, however, it couldn't have been done without Boyd and Graham. But at least South isn't totally dependant on Boyd 32 minutes of every game. "You just can't stop them," said Collinsville coach Richard "Foz" Ryan. "If you bunch up on Boyd, then she dumps it off to Graham and then emphasizing with his hands zing! She's pops one in from way out. But if you concentrate on Graham, she'll pass to Boyd and she'll pop one in. All you can do is hope to slow them down."

Boyd was good for 21 points and Graham was phenomenal from the outside. She scored 18 points. More amazing is the fact that she missed only three shots from the field all night. Morgan wasn't completely happy with his team's performance—but almost. "We made some mental mistakes tonight," he said. "And their (Collinsville's) pressure bothered us some. They (Kanhoks) have a very good defense. It's not the toughest we've faced this season, but it's good."

Collinsville's full-court pressure caused the Lady Warriors to turn the ball over for failure to reach the mid-court line in 10 seconds just once. But in the first half, it was obviously bothering South. "Like I said, not the toughest we've seen all season," said Morgan. "But it did bother us."

"But that's all the negative things I'm going to say," he added. "I've already told them we're going to emphasize the positive."

COLLINSVILLE—Hollerbach 12, Price 12, Fraundorf 2, Pilot 5, McCarthy 13, FG 21, FT 2, PF 14.

Girl Scout anniversary parade in downtown

by DONNA KIMBRO of the Press-Record

Brownies and Girl Scouts in the Quad-City area will gather on the parking area of the First Assembly of God Church, 24th Street and Madison Avenue on Saturday morning, March 7, for a parade formation in observance of the 69th anniversary of Girl Scouting.

Uniformed scouts will proceed south on Madison Avenue to Niedringhaus Avenue and then west to the City Hall of Granite City where color guards will post the American, Girl Scout and Girl Guide flags marking the official Girl Scout Week activities.

Parade coordinator Lynn Ross of Neighborhood Two will be assisted by Joyce Churchwell of Neighborhood Five and Pam Meyers of Neighborhood Four.

Leading the procession will be a drum corps comprised of students from the John Fornasewski Music School, Mrs. Ross added.

"We expect about 900 adults and scouts to be present for the official ceremonial in Granite City and if inclement weather prevails the parade will be cancelled but the flags will be posted and remain at the City Hall for the week.

As the scouts arrive at the designated location, Granite City Mayor Paul Schulz will sign a proclamation noting the anniversary observance which also marks the 19th year of the existence of the River Bluffs Girl Scout Council.

Cadet Troop 328, led by Mrs. Diane Kinder and Mrs. Diane Swift, will lead the parade with part of the troop carrying the World Association flags and the remainder of the troop will perform the flag ceremony at the city hall.

For the remainder of the afternoon, each troop will set up various exhibits in area businesses and banks to display crafts, new uniforms and badges relative to the latest scout programs initiated on a nationwide basis.

"Girl Scouting 1981's Style" is this year's theme and is designed to highlight the new concepts in Girl Scouting including new emphasis on career exploration.

Girl Scout Sunday will be celebrated on March 8 across the country by Girl Scouts and adult leaders who will attend worship services at designated churches or at their own places of worship, according to Miss Diane Busch, public relations director for the River Bluffs Girl Scout Council.

During the anniversary week all troops are encouraged to plan and hold special programs or projects.

Some of the suggestions outlined by the council is a uniform or Girl Scout pin day, citywide service project, help with nutrition meals for senior citizens, volunteer help in a library and sponsor a film or career festival.

A host of other ideas has been released by the council to promote an involved participation by each and every troop and scout.

Miss Busch announces there are 2,100 adult volunteers and 13,000 girls active in the scouting program directed by the council.

She added, "Girl Scouting's contemporary program is built on a foundation of proven values and is designed to help a girl make intelligent choices for herself, her career and her future."

Strengthened by the program itself, Girl Scouting brings to each girl an awareness of her own personal worth and a chance to grow as an individual."

FINED FOR ILLEGAL USE OF LOADED GUN

Maurice Wells, 29, of 201 Weaver St., Venice, charged with unlawful use of a weapon Sept. 25 in Venice, was fined $215 this month by Circuit Judge A. A. Maloesian.

The charge alleged that he was a convicted felon in possession of a loaded gun in an auto stopped by police on Klein Street. In October, the judge dismissed a May 30 weapon charge against Wells.

For generations some people have said that no more electric power plants are needed. If we and the rest of the utility industry had heeded those words, electricity today would be a precious commodity that would have to be closely rationed. Many of the good jobs and labor-saving devices we take for granted simply would not exist.

We have an obligation to see to it that the next generation will have ample electric energy too.

Remember, years ago somebody looked ahead and built the power plants that supply you today.

Two from North win trophies in marketing

North DECA (Retailing Co-op students) won trophies at an area contest at Belleville East High School. Students from Alton, Bethalto, Cahokia, Roxana, Belleville East, and Belleville West also were present. Tests were given in food marketing, general marketing, automobile and petroleum, general merchandising, apparel and accessories, finance and credit, food service and advertising.

After the students were tested, they attended a banquet. The teachers were busy grading and determining winners in each event.

This is the first year North has received trophies. Anna Crawford won the first place trophy in food marketing and Todd Pope won the first place trophy in general marketing. The trophies were presented at the conclusion of the banquet. Other students participating in the contest were: Wendy Boyett, Jon Bunch, Donna Byrd, Sherry Clemensen, Helen DeForest, Kevin DePew, Lori Dickerman, Ken Gorline, Cathy Hornberger, Lila Hudson, Linda Jones, Chris Lewis and Leslie Ybarra.

SIU rooms named for trees

The names of six well-known trees that are common to this region have been selected for the new meeting rooms on the second floor of the University Center at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The names were approved last week by the SIU Board of Trustees, and collectively the inter-connected group of rooms will be called the Conference Center.

Individually, the facilities were named the Hackberry, Red Bud, Maple, Dogwood, Oak and Hickory Rooms, and a single, separate meeting room at the southwest corner of the new complex was named the Board Room.

The newly-renovated area was dedicated at grand opening festivities last month. With the addition of the seven meeting rooms, the Center has conference and catering facilities equipped to handle groups from six to 1,100 persons. Most of the rooms in the University Center are named after Indiana native trees and rivers in the region.

Madison Demo auxiliary accepts new club charter

The Madison City and Democratic Auxiliary received its club charter at the Madison Recreation Center last week with President Zella Niehaus in charge of the meeting. The pledge of allegiance was said in unison by members, and Chaplain Elizabeth Yankoff read the evening prayer.

Mrs. Yankoff thanked members for cards and gifts received during her recent illness and a thank you was received from member Frances Trots who is ill in Barnes Hospital, St. Louis.

It was decided that any member who had not attended three meetings in the past year without illness or work interference would be dropped as an active member, this ruling complying with the club by-laws.

Maxine Costoff presented the club with the club charter which had been reinstated. Treasurer Ida Dant reported 100 percent membership renewal.

President Niehaus announced the date for the annual Ethnic picnic would be Aug. 21, 22 and 23. The "City-Demos" will again sponsor this affair with the Madison Fire Department.

There will be Carnival rides, games, barbeque dinners, beer and music. Two guests were introduced: Doreen A. Hutchings and Mary Cromer. The club members agreed to attend the Good Times Dinner Theater, Thursday, Feb. 19.

Maxine Costoff announced a Venice Township meeting at the Madison Recreation Center on Thursday, March 17 at 12:30 p.m.

There will be registration at Ward 8, precinct 3 voters at the Madison Recreation Center on Saturday, Feb. 21 from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m.

The members voted to purchase a radio and four beepers equipment costing $1,386 to be used in the ambulance purchased by the City of Madison for the use of the Madison citizens.

Hostesses Marie Hoekstra, LaVerna Harris and Cindy Heady served refreshments to the following: Mary Rogenski, Julie Goclan, Sadie Wojcik, Mary Cromer, Cora Barry, Irma Manning, Catherine Hakkarainen, Christine Green, Connie Almos, Judy Donaldson, Winnie Sasysk, Laura Peach, Julia Voloski, Collette Tuggle, Dollie Smith, Mary Bucherich, Debbie O'Beare, Sophia Dufko, Pam Dynas, Eleanor Armour, Joan Wilkins, Liz Yankoff, Zella Niehaus, Ida Dant, Connie Moore, Maxine Skinner, Pauline Dubish, Angela Vavra, Maxine Costoff and Hilda Graville.

Church Women United Forum set Thursday

by DONNA KIMBRO
of the Press-Record

"Causeway for Peace" will highlight the February Forum meeting of the Quad-City Church Women United scheduled for Thursday, Feb. 26, to convene at 9 a.m. at the Nameoki United Methodist Church, Primrose Avenue and Pontoon Road.

The forum will focus on a search of a just, peaceful and caring society with the goal set to develop the growing network of church women who are committed to achieving justice and wholeness in community life locally and globally, according to co-chairmen Corinne Dawson and Joyce Schrader.

A salad luncheon will be served at noon and the program will continue until 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

Child care will be provided, according to the chairmen.

Principal speaker will be Dr. Margaret L. Sonnday who comes to the Quad-City CWU Forum to highlight how Causeways work as a "peace building tool."

The forum will feature a presentation by her entitled, "Called to Be Reconcilers," followed by small group discussions and strategies for peace-building.

Dr. Sonnday has become a respected authority and advocate of peacebuilding strategies. She assumed responsibility of developing the priority program as voted at the Ecumenical Assembly in Wichita in 1971. In 1974 at the Memphis Assembly, Dr. Sonnday was responsible for stating the triennial goals.

In 1974 she chaired the CWU Christian Causeway to six Asian countries where women from both sides of the Pacific ocean explored together sound peace-building practices for our time.

The guest speaker was a United Methodist delegate to the Fifth Assembly of the World Council of Churches and moderator of the Sub-Unit on Women and Men in Church and Society at that session.

She received an honorary degree of Doctor of Humanities from Eden Seminary in St. Louis in 1976.

The program is open to the public, according to the chairmen and for information those interested are advised to contact Mrs. Dawson at 877-4139 or Mrs. Schrader at 931-0041.

Colonial Bank re-elects

The stockholders of Colonial Bank of Granite City held their fifth annual meeting in the lobby of the bank at 4 p.m. Feb. 18.

Seventy-seven percent of the shares outstanding were represented either in person or by proxy. The following 11 directors were re-elected:

Chairman Ranft thanked the stockholders for their attendance and continued support during the past year.

He displayed a plaque which is being presented to Paul H. Lichtenberger, founding chairman of the bank, in recognition of his leadership and guidance in the organization and development of Colonial Bank.

Ranft then introduced Donald E. Van Horn, president, who gave a progress report on the bank's growth during 1980. He pointed out that total assets had grown $1,892,948 by year's end, representing a 15 percent increase from the previous year.

The directors' organizational meeting was held immediately following the stockholders' meeting. In the following officers were elected:

Carl A. Ranft, chairman; Donald E. Van Horn, president; Dorothy J. Burton, assistant vice president and cashier; Charles R. Patterson Jr., assistant vice president and loan officer.

The directors appointed Paul H. Lichtenberger, advisor to the board of directors.

Hearing on health plan Sweep of city funds possible?

A public hearing on a proposed state health plan will take place on Thursday, Feb. 26, at the Belleville City Hall, 101 S. Illinois, beginning at 4 p.m.

Ted Ellerman, executive vice-president of St. Elizabeth Medical Center, Granite City, a member of the Statewide Health Coordinating Council which developed the plan, said, "The hearing will afford citizens of our area an opportunity to provide additional information on topics contained in the plan."

Ellerman described the plan as an assessment of the state's current health needs, along with proposals to meet these needs.

"It is intended as a statement of plans for improving the health status of Illinois residents and for achieving desired changes in the state's health care delivery system," he said.

Ellerman said the public is invited to present either oral or written testimony.

"Those who desire to present testimony should register at the door when they arrive at the hearing," he said.

"A copy of written testimony should be given to the hearing officer and, if oral testimony is to be presented, a written copy should be prepared and given to the hearing officer."

Although no decisions will be made at the hearing, all testimony will be submitted to the Statewide Health Council.

The hearing will be accessible to handicapped persons. Handicapped persons who require special accommodations are to contact Sally Epping, 925 W. Jef-erson, Springfield 62761 (telephone 217-785-2040) to make arrangements.

The Belleville hearing is one of 11 simultaneous public hearings being conducted throughout the state. Others are in Chicago, Rockford, Cary, Rock Island, Peoria, Springfield, Marion, Oak Park, Joliet and Champaign.

ENROLLMENT CUTOFF AT EASTERN ILLINOIS

Eastern Illinois University (Charleston) will not accept any more new freshman student applications for the fall semester of 1981, it was announced last week by John Beason, director of admissions. He said the cutoff was made necessary because an increased number of applications already has brought the university to its enrollment capacity, approximately 9,900 students.

"As we reach a point of maximum utilization of our resources and facilities, we must take steps to ensure that we maintain the quality of our academic programs," said Beason.

Daniel E. Marvin, Jr., said the cutoff is in line with a request from the Illinois Board of Higher Education to reduce Eastern's level of enrollment over the next few years.

Students making application after the cutoff date may ask to be placed on a waiting list.

TROLLING MOTOR GONE

A thief entered the fenced yard at the home of Bill Casey, 2919 Pershing Blvd., and stole an electric trolling motor, valued at $200, a 12-volt battery and a six-gallon gas tank from a bass boat, he reported at 8:50 a.m. Friday.

Sweep of city funds possible?

Warning. Bad news ahead. That was the message Granite City Supervisor of Streets Lionel Portell gave the Granite City Council last week as he telegraphed throughout the state. Others are in Chicago, Rockford, Cary, Rock Island, Peoria, Springfield, Marion, Oak Park, Joliet and Champaign.

"We blew the rear end in our older street sweeper and it would cost $1,500 to $3,000 to repair. It is now 11 years old and our newest sweeper is five years old."

"I am going to recommend something at the next council meeting to get the job done. You cannot do the job without the tools," he concluded.

Warns against early tap-on fee payments

Walter "Dick" Sparks, supervisor of Chouteau Township has advised: All senior citizens, handicapped and low income property owners who desire assistance with the cost of connecting their home sewerline to the new sewer system should apply for a grant from the Chouteau Township Community Development grant program to not apply for a county sewer permit at this time.

If residents are accepted for a grant, the permit will be paid for through the program. Madison County Community Development will not make refunds for any expense incurred before contract agreements are signed and approved.

Sparks said some persons are obtaining their permits and paying for them. The money spent in this way cannot be reimbursed, he explained. Residents first must make contracts and apply for funds which are used to buy the permits.

Two men rob store

Two men robbed M. Kuenstler and Son, a hardware store at 19th and Benton streets, at 10:20 a.m. Friday and fled with $75, taken from the owner's wallet, a gold wristwatch and about $9 from the cash register.

Harold Kuenstler said the men came into the store and one asked him for felt roofing paper, while the second man stood near the front door.

Told the store didn't have any paper, the first man asked for roofing cement and Kuenstler walked to the northeast corner of the building where the cement is kept, he told police.

As the owner turned around, the first man, described as being six feet, two inches tall and slim with a black full beard, struck Kuenstler in the face, knocking the lens from his eye glasses.

He ordered the store owner to lie face down on the floor and removed Kuenstler's wallet from his back pocket, taking the money from it.

The same man opened the cash register drawer and removed the currency.

While the men were in the store, a customer came to the door and was told by the second man involved in the robbery the owner was out making a delivery.

When the customer started to enter, the second robber then said the owner was sick. At that point, both men ran from the building, turning west at 19th street and then going north on Benton Street.

The second man was about five feet, five inches tall, 30 years old and of slim build. He had a dark brown beard.

Both men wore hats, similar to golfer's caps. Kuenstler told officers he did not remember seeing a weapon displayed by either man.

Probation sentence in fight with police

Two-year probation has been ordered for Daniel E. Caughron, 22, of 2871 Madison Ave. for July 26, 1980, aggravated battery in Granite City. Circuit Judge Philip J. Harick presided.

Patrolman Ed Wiesehan was injured when he struggled with Caughron, a prisoner, in the rear seat of a police car. The arrest had been made on traffic offenses alleged to have occurred on Madison and Grand avenues. The officer was kicked and struck with a knee about the head and body.

Pontoon Mobil ad in error

An advertisement published on page six of Thursday's Feb. 19 issue which said that Pontoon Mobil Station at Highway 111 and Pontoon Road was going out of business was erroneous.

The Pontoon Mobile Station is not going out of business and it is not conducting a sale of tires, batteries and accessories as specified in the advertisement.

A spokesman at the station said all information in the advertisement was in error.

Night hours for aid, and placement

The Financial Aid and Placement Office at Belleville Area College has scheduled night hours March 2, 5, 10, 11, 16, 19 and 24 to help students who are unable to visit the school during the day.

The office, Room 3285, will be open from 4:30 to 8:30 p.m.

It also will be open the same hours April 1, 9, 20 and 29.

Open house to show off engineering projects

The department of engineering and technology at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will open its labs and show off its accomplishments in an Open House, Friday, Feb. 27, in the Science Building.

The displays and projects, all conceived and built by engineering students as part of their regular classroom work, will be open from 10 a.m. until 6 p.m. observing National Engineering Week, Feb. 23-27.

"It is our way of celebrating Washington's Birthday," said Dan Cote, Associate professor and coordinator. "He was not a bad surveyor or builder on his own," Cote said.

Open House visitors will get to meet a pint-sized robot, talk to a voice command system that does whatever you say, try to crush the world's strongest concrete block made from a formula that remains a secret, visit Star Trek by computer, or watch the Teton Dam collapse all over again and find out why.

The bridge builders will also challenge anyone to improve the design or the length of their balsa wood models that must be strong enough to let an egg cross. The industrial engineers will bring their own models to show what happens when a structure bends or deforms. In the environmental lab, the surf will be up for a hydraulic demonstration, simulating the 10-foot wave at the Bay of Fundy, to show how engineers use the power of the tidal bore.

And for the computer enthusiasts who have mastered the games they got for Christmas, the computer lab will be open with an assortment of electronic games and gadgets to challenge any tinkerer.

The Open House will be a good way for high school students to come and see why they are studying all that math and science, Cote said. "We want to show them the art in engineering along with the science."

For additional information, interested persons may contact Cote at 892-2500 in the department of engineering and technology.

Scholarship proposal cut

Governor James R. Thompson reduced the supplemental appropriation for the Illinois State Scholarship Commission by $5,287,000 last week.

"Illinois is a national leader in both the number and average amount of grants to students based on demonstrated need," Thompson said in his message to legislators. "If Illinois, total funds available for student financial aid increased 26 percent in fiscal year 1980."

"In addition, I approved two supplemental appropriations during 1980 for the monetary award program."

The governor said the current funding level for the monetary award program will allow the Scholarship Commission to provide 80,000 need-based awards totaling $85.8 million.

He added that the state cannot afford the nearly $5.3 million in supplemental funds in its present financial condition.

TV Mailbag

By THOM MEAD

HOLLYWOOD — The TV Mailbag:

Q. I know Timothy Hutton is the son of the late actor, Jim Hutton. How about something on him? — O.V., Seattle, Wash.

A. When his parents divorced, Timothy lived with his mother on the East Coast. He moved to Southern California at age 16 to live with his father, Jim, who died of cancer in 1978. His father convinced him to team up in a summer production of "Harvey" and Timothy liked it so much, he decided to become an actor. He was helped along by his father and landed a few roles on television. His first big break was in "Friendly Fire," which starred Carol Burnett and Ned Beatty. He recently appeared in "Father Figure" and is currently starring in the film, "Ordinary People." Timothy is 20 years old.

Q. I recently caught a rerun of "The Millionaire" on CBS and was wondering if this was a pilot for a reprise of the old TV series? — Y.D., St. Peters, Mo.

A. Yes, it was. This 1978 CBS film was designed as a pilot but failed to attract much viewer attention. The original series aired between 1955 and 1961.

Q. Can you tell me why the color seems to wash out on series that have been syndicated? I've been watching the reruns of "Baretta" and they have been much darker than when the series originally appeared on ABC. It's not my set because commercials show up in excellent color. — C.H., San Luis Obispo, Calif.

A. Many series in syndication are put on tapes to save money and to permit easier handling. These so-called "second generation" prints tend to wash out the color.

Q. We really enjoyed Ted Bessel's "Good Time Harry" and would like to protest to NBC about its cancellation. Where do we write? — J.N. and B.B., Warren, Ohio

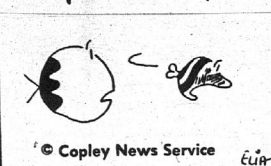

A. Address your protest to NBC Entertainment, 3000 W. Alameda Ave., Burbank, Calif. 91505.

Svenson has a lesson for Americans

By NANCY ANDERSON

HOLLYWOOD — Big Bo Svenson, who refused to play John Wayne in a proposed television movie, "Shooting Star," even though he was offered half a million dollars to do so, is continuing as Sheriff Buford Pusser on television, because he hopes the new NBC series, "Walking Tall," can help turn public thinking around.

He didn't reject the Wayne role because he had anything against the star. Quite the contrary. Wayne, he believes, is such a legend that "we should leave the man alone."

Pusser, on the other hand, while legendary in his own way became so largely through the treatment of his life on the screen and thus is appropriate grist for television's mill.

The country is in a lot of trouble, outspoken Svenson believes, and unless something can psyche the public out of current attitudes we may pass the point of no return.

So, he says, "I hope the message of 'Walking Tall' will be to revere your community, to question current practices, to question what we've been doing with our kids."

In short, Svenson hopes that "Walking Tall" will encourage people to get back to old-fashioned virtues like honesty, bravery and patriotism.

"I want people to love this country!" Svenson fervently declares.

"I'm risking a lot of what I own (by promoting my views)," he continues. "Because I'm a right winger, and that's risky."

Getting "Walking Tall" onto home screens was no easy matter, because Svenson and producer Dave Gerber were given very short notice by NBC that the product was going into series.

"We had a three-week start up period," Svenson was observing over dinner the other night. "I got a script today that we'll start shooting Thursday, and I'll probably have to do a rewrite tonight."

Because of the pressure to get the show on the air in a hurry, Bo's been less than ecstatic about the quality of the scripts as they've come to him, but, because he feels he knows the Pusser character well from having played in him theatrical films, he also feels qualified to rewrite the lines.

On the other hand, so far as the themes of the shows go, he finds them satisfactory.

"If they'll let us stay on for 10 shows," he predicts, "we won't go off until we wish to."

"Yes, the show's violent, but we live in a violent society. There's no nice way to solve our problems with lunatics."

"Yes, in the show I carry a big stick, but would you rather I carried a gun and blew holes in people?"

The stick, as a matter of interest, weighs 38 pounds and requires a man of Svenson's size (6-foot-6) to wield it. The television Pusser, Bo matter-of-factly says, "uses it to break heads."

As a six-year Marine who served in Vietnam, Svenson has strong and clear-cut views about firearms.

He's for gun control, but not in the usual sense of the phrase.

"If anyone commits a crime with a gun, he should go to jail," says Svenson. "If he hurts someone, he should have to serve at least 10 years, and if he kills someone ..."

Bo has no qualms about strong punishment for transgressors and, as a Marine, was court-martialed after he broke both arms of a man who'd raped a Japanese prostitute.

He thinks the public should be educated to the results of gunfire by televising in the grizzliest and most complete detail the shooting of a hog.

The SPCA wouldn't complain, he argues, because the hog would be destined for the slaughter pens anyway.

While playing Buford Pusser is time-consuming, Svenson is making time for another project in which he's intensely interested.

He's working a 10-hour historical drama about the Vikings which he's aiming at television.

"It will be fiction but based on reality," says Swedish-born Svenson. "It will be the Scandinavian 'Shogun'."

Leprosy is increasing

Far from being eradicated, leprosy is actually increasing in some areas despite medical advances. There are an estimated 15 to 20 million lepers in the world today, and more than 5 million of them are children.

*If you've got your health,
you've got it all!*

Women risk getting certain kinds of cancer. That's why you should talk with your doctor about how you can protect yourself. Doing monthly breast self-examination and getting regular cancer checkups are good ways to stay healthy. And if you've got your health, you've got it all!

Try leaving on a flight
of fancy.

It's one thing to sit around and dream of faraway places. But when you decide to go, you've got to come up with a ticket. Wishing won't make it so. Saving will get you there.

One of the easiest, safest ways to save is to buy U.S. Savings Bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan. A little is taken out of each paycheck automatically. And the Bonds will eventually grow into a first-class ticket to anywhere.

Nothing is too far. Tahiti, London, Paris, Rome. Even a trip around the world. Or just a long vacation on a Caribbean island. Anywhere.

So go ahead, take a flight of fancy. Then start buying Bonds so you can take a fancy flight.

Take stock
in America.

When you put part of your savings into U.S. Savings Bonds, you're helping to build a brighter future for your country and for yourself.
